How does a suspended horse win a stakes race in France?

French authorities allowed Lovino Bello to race in – and win – the Prix Ready Cash despite the trotter being suspended in Italy due to doping.

with THOMAS HEDLUND

A major difference of opinion regarding doping regulations (and the use of whips, driving as a general rule) has developed between European countries as a result of French trotter Lovino Bello's triumph on Sunday (Dec. 8) in the $220,000 Prix Ready Cash at Vincennes. Lovino Bello won the Group 1 race while under suspension in Italy.

The 3-year-old son of Village Mystic was handed a one-month suspension for doping after a third-place finish in the $270,000 Gran Premio Orsi Mangelli on Nov. 1 in Torino. The suspension began on Nov. 28.

Ten days later, Lovino Bello and his connections stood in the winner's circle at Vincennes after an impressive first-over victory.

Lovino Bello is obviously among the world's best 3-year-old trotters in 2024. He has proven that several times during the season. But how and why he was allowed to race in France on Sunday is a mystery.

France is a member of the Union Européenne du Trot (UET) along with Italy, Sweden, Germany, Austria, Belgium, the Netherlands, Denmark and Norway. As such, all member states should respect each member country's rulings.

It is a messy story.

Some big names (French superstar Jean-Michel Bazire for example) claim the rules in Italy differ from those in the rest of the UET. But it's a claim few people involved in the business can stand behind, even if they were born in France.

A suspended horse should be suspended everywhere. That is hardly rocket science.

The case is tragic because Lovino Bello could be a superstar in the sport. The question now is whether Lovino Bello will be remembered as a champion or as the "horse that won a stakes race while under suspension for doping?"

In the Prix Ready Cash Lovino Bello won in a mile rate of 1:55.1 over 1.3 miles. Italian trotters Frank Gio and First Of Mind finished second and third, respectively.

BIG UPSETS SECURED SPOTS IN PRIX D'AMERIQUE

Sunday's (Dec. 8) $125,000 Prix du Bourbonnais became a race where three big upsets succeeded in securing spots in Prix d'Amérique 2025.

Winner Josh Power (Offshore Dream), was the first choice in the first B-race, Prix de Bretagne, but in that race the 5-year-old colt got a bad trip and couldn't fight for the top places.

In the Prix du Bourbonnais, Sebastien Ernault-trained Josh Power got a tough trip in the event's initial part before he Josh Power won in a strong mile rate of 1:55 over 1.7 miles on a very sloppy track.

Emeraude de Bais was the horse giving cover to Josh Power and Emeraude de Bais held bravely as runner up while Hokkaido Jiel finished quickly far outside and secured the bronze medal.

This means big names such as Go On Boy, Jushua Tree and Idao de Tillard still have to prove that they are set for the Prix d'Amérique. The two remaining Prix d'Amérique qualifying races are shaping up to be spectacular.

VIVID WISE AS GOES OUT A WINNER

Vivid Wise As (Yankee Glide) made his last career start in Florence, Italy on Sunday (Dec. 8) afternoon and there was a fairytale finish to the story of the tireless trotter and his spectacular career.

Vivid Wise As took a safe wire-to-wire win in the $127,000 Gran Premio Duomo and Alessandro Gocciadoro took care of the reigns in the horse's last performance. Vivid Wise As won in 1:55.4.

Justine Irvine isn't afraid to take advice and make his own path

by Debbie Little

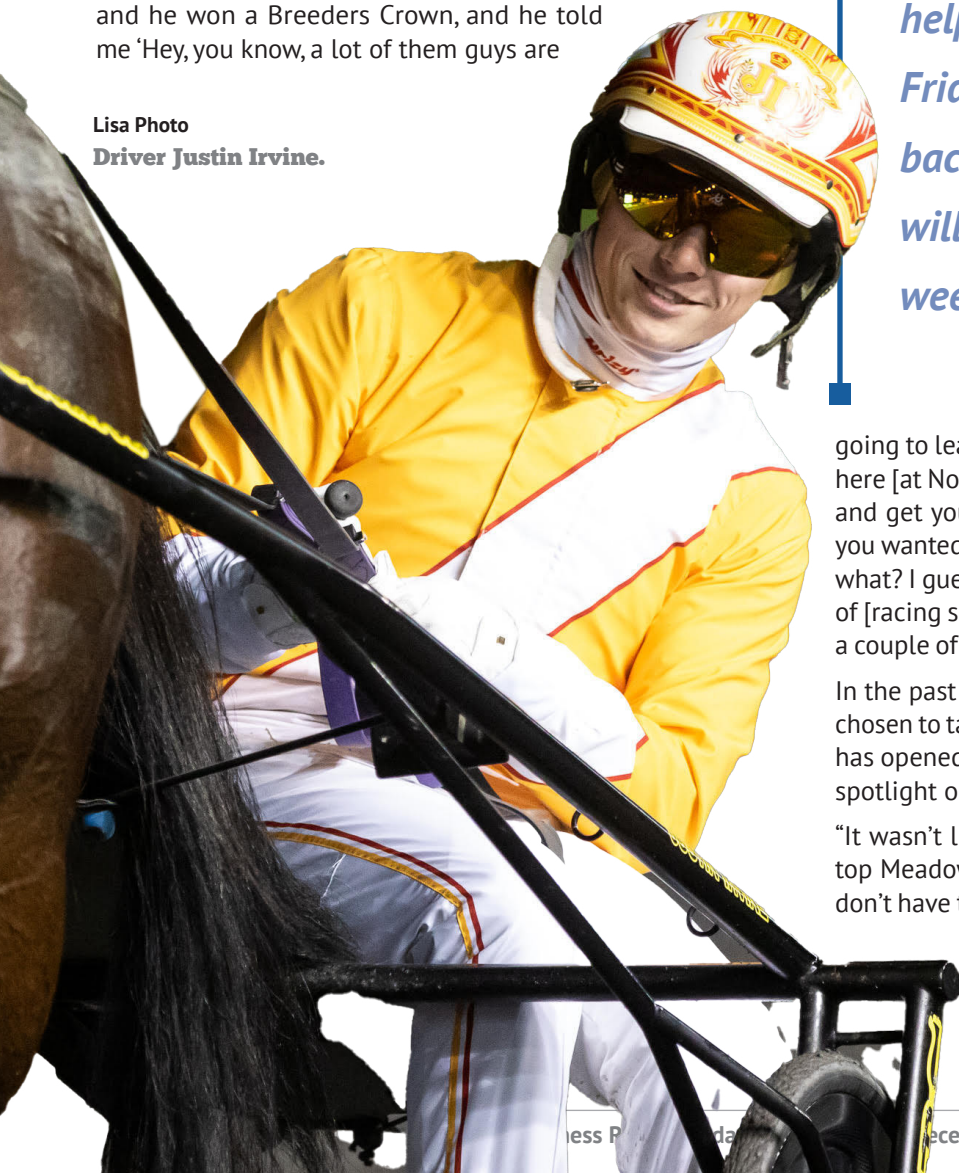

Justin Irvine is a well-established talent back home at Ohio's Northfield Park. He is sitting second in the driver standings behind perennial kingpin Aaron Merriman.

But, when Northfield Park mainstays Merriman and Ron Wrenn, Jr. suggested Irvine should give The Meadowlands a shot, the just-turned 23-year-old took their advice.

"Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. was out [at The Meadowlands] and he won a Breeders Crown, and he told me 'Hey, you know, a lot of them guys are going to leave town for the winter, and you're doing pretty well here [at Northfield], but if you ever kind of wanted to maybe try and get your name out there, you'd only miss one day here if you wanted to go," Irvine said. "And, so I was like, 'Well, you know what? I guess you're right. I guess maybe I should.' So, I got hold of [racing secretary] Scott Warren... and, I just ended up getting a couple of drives and then I just got lucky in a couple of spots."

Driver Justin Irvine.

“ It will be Sundays at Northfield. Mondays we have off, but I still go to the barn because my dad and I have horses. Tuesdays and Wednesdays at Northfield and I'll fly out [to The Meadowlands] more than likely sometime in the afternoon, early evening on Thursdays after I go to the barn again on Thursday, to help my dad, and then drive here Friday, Saturday and then fly back Sunday morning and that will be pretty much my whole week. ”

In the past several years, many of The Big M's top drivers have chosen to take time off during New Jersey's colder months, which has opened up opportunities for young drivers to step into the spotlight on harness racing's biggest stage.

"It wasn't like that when I was starting," Merriman said of the top Meadowlands drivers taking so much time off. "I said, 'You don't have to go out there driving the best horses. Get out there and get different experiences. It's a different racetrack, it's different racing. And it gets your name out there like, 'Oh, who's this guy, who's this guy?' You're going to go out there and you're going to get the opportunity to drive some horses' and I think it's an absolutely phenomenal idea for him.

"I said, 'Do it now when you don't have a family.' I said, 'It's just you, bud, get out there and do these things. It's very, very important for you.' And it's going to help him, believe me. The more experience you get, the better."

As the sport's long-time national dash champ, Merriman has seen a lot and has been only too happy to share his opinion with Irvine when asked.

"I think it's very, very nice and I feel flattered to even be able to have the opportunity to give him advice," Merriman said. "Because a lot of guys, younger guys, don't take it either. It's a much different generation."

Merriman said that Irvine is just as good at taking criticism as he is at taking praise.

Merriman gave a little tough love to Irvine following an incident earlier this year in May when the young driver threw his broken whip into the infield at Northfield Park. An action that Irvine immediately said he regretted.

"I told him knock it off because that kind of stuff, that carries with you," Merriman said. "That's why I say, when you don't do it again and you say, 'Okay, well, I learned from that. I don't want to be that,' to me that's maturity. I mean, he's mature beyond his years."

Since premiering at The Meadowlands in early November, Irvine has gotten noticed.

He had eight drives on his first card and the following week, on his second, he had 10 which included his first two Big M victories.

Trainer Frank Calcagni used Irvine for the first time on Keystone Apache on Nov. 8, when they finished fourth.

"I just happened to get put on [Calcagni's] horse the week before and he raced really well from the outside, so he put me back down again," Irvine said. "And, I thought he factored in there, especially the way he raced the week before. And Frank told me, 'He drew in this week and he can race any way you want and he's usually pretty good if you can get him to the front.'"

Irvine said he remembers immediately moving Keystone Apache off the gate on Nov. 15.

"I didn't care if I was on the front or in the 2-hole, I thought he could win that race and he just barely got there, but, I mean, it doesn't say that on the paycheck," Irvine said with a laugh.

Just seven drives later, Irvine was reunited with an old friend.

"I used to have the horse, I used to train National Sport, probably three years ago, 2.5 years ago," Irvine said.

National Sport is currently trained by Bill MacKenzie, a friend of Irvine's brother Brad. The trainer had called Justin prior to claiming the horse earlier this year.

"I know that the horse was in a spot where he could win and yeah, I mean, that would have been cool to be my first win just because I really did like that horse when I had him before he got claimed off of me," Justin said. "He's got a good personality and is nice to work with, but it was still cool to just win with him."

In just 58 starts, Justin has recorded a respectable seven wins, prompting Meadowlands TV host Dave Little to say, "He's one of the younger guys that you can pick with confidence."

Although not even two full months into his stint at The Meadowlands, the third-generation horseman from Aurora, OH already has a plan in his head should everything continue to work out for him at the East Rutherford, NJ mile oval.

“ I think [Justin’s] very, very talented. He’s definitely beyond his years on the track. That’s my opinion. He doesn’t use the whip much for a young guy. He’s been kind of thrust into a very good position of driving a lot of horses, and I think that helps a lot. ”

~ Aaron Merriman

“It will be Sundays at Northfield,” Justin said. “Mondays we have off, but I still go to the barn because my dad and I have horses. Tuesdays and Wednesdays at Northfield and I’ll fly out [to The Meadowlands] more than likely sometime in the afternoon, early evening on Thursdays after I go to the barn again on Thursday, to help my dad, and then drive here Friday, Saturday and then fly back Sunday morning and that will be pretty much my whole week.”

Even though his schedule is currently quite full, Justin wouldn’t want it to be any other way.

“I mean, it doesn’t leave a lot of room for Christmas shopping right now, I’ll tell you that,” Justin said with a laugh. “But I don’t mind it, I like racing horses. I like going to the barn and I like doing all of it.

“It kind of sucks when it gets cold out, but it’s what I wanted to do, so it doesn’t even feel like work really.”

Justin is having a career year – 2,206 starts, 294 wins and $2,556,210 in earnings – that he is most appreciative of.

“I didn’t think that this year would go how it has, to be honest with you,” Justin said. “I thought a realistic goal would be to do a quarter better than what I did last year. So, like a million and three in earnings and maybe 150 wins or 140 wins, you know, just add like 25 per cent to all my totals. And like you said, I’ve pretty much doubled them in every single category or more.”

Justin said there are a lot of people he’d like to recognize for being in his corner.

“I mean, first off, definitely my mom and my dad,” Justin said. “My dad’s my biggest critic, but he’s my biggest fan and my mom, she’s just my number one supporter, even if I drive bad, she doesn’t care.”

Although he hasn’t been racing at The Meadowlands long, Justin spoke appreciatively of all those that have trusted him to drive their horses. He also mentioned his long-time close buddy Braxten Boyd who has been very supportive of his choice to come east.

“I thought Justin would fit in well,” Boyd said. “A lot of young drivers drive here in the winter and a lot of people like to give younger guys opportunities during this time out here and I thought he would fit because from the moment I met him he’s always had a great set of hands on the track and gotten better every day.”

Justin also pointed out that the fact that his girlfriend, Jessica Otten, works at The Meadowlands is a bonus in terms of them spending time together.

“I think everybody wants to drive at The Meadowlands or at any of the big tracks, but The Meadowlands is definitely at the top of the list,” Justin said. “But her being out here just makes it a lot easier for both of us.”

Justin couldn’t talk enough about how supportive all the drivers at his home track of Northfield Park have been since he practically grew up there. His father Don Irvine, Jr. is on Northfield’s Wall of Fame.

“I think [Justin’s] very, very talented,” Merriman said. “He’s definitely beyond his years on the track. That’s my opinion. He doesn’t use the whip much for a young guy. He’s been kind of thrust into a very good position of driving a lot of horses, and I think that helps a lot.”

Merriman also mentioned some more advice that he gave Justin.

“I said, ‘Listen, you’re Justin Irvine, you’re not your father, who was a great driver down here [at Northfield];’” Merriman said. “I said, ‘You’re going to make your own path.’ I keep telling him, make your own path, that’s what I tell him all the time. I said, ‘You’ve got your own greatness; be yourself, make your own path.’”

HOLLYWOOD'S HITS

with BOB HEYDEN

Remembering Freehold, Part 1

by Bob Heyden

This is my first of at least three, or maybe four, columns taking a look back at the history of Freehold Raceway. That central New Jersey track was a huge part of my introduction to the sport in the 1970s. Rutgers and Freehold were my two priorities from 1974-78. I think you can guess in what order. I am still in partial denial at the thought of losing the "Afternoon Delight," but here is a list of names, dates, performers, and standouts, that immediately come to mind as soon as Dec. 28 is mentioned. What makes it even worse, is it's my birthday!

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

I will never forget names like Roscoe Rodgers, Bill Pocza, 1964 executive vice president John D. Cronin, Fern Paquet, Dave Bulk, Lou Conselina, Noel Olin, Furman Suydam, Jr., announcer Bill Ryan, Paul Consol, Ed Sabatini, Steve Inokai, 1960 hire as assistant publicity director and later GM Joe McCloone, Mickey Lamb, Mike Vavourakis, Fudd Anastasios Papadopoulos, Robert Rahner and the ageless, momentous Jacqueline Coard later Ingrassia, Armando and Marie Vocaturo, Tom Fedarick, Fred Jaeger, Charlie Kelly (the horse who seemed to race three times a week), Ben Morgan, Lou Sperendi, and of course Catman and Herve. Ladies had a way of being front and center too; Jackie and JoAnn, Stacy, Bardot Lobell, Shady Daisy, Helen Dancer, Robin Dundee, and who could forget the only female ever to defeat Cam Fella, Jef's Eternity. She did so right at Freehold on April 9, 1983 with John Campbell driving in a Graduate leg.

I'VE GOT THE HORSE RIGHT HERE

Looking for a collectible final day Freehold program and cover? We would have to include Albatross for sure from his 1972 track record. Niatross taking the James Dancer in a breeze in 1980. Both of those, father and son, were easy choices for Horse of the Year.

Or we would also have to consider/include something on the Breeders Crown coming to Freehold in the 1980s, with possibly the powerful Matt's Scooter front and center in mid-flight.

Or Mack Lobell's unreal 1988 1:56 flat time trial at central Jersey's only daytime oval.

Or Cardigan Bay on Sept. 14, 1968 becoming the first millionaire in the sport's history, you got it, right there at Freehold before a standing room only crowd.

Or an action shot of Keystone Ore, Oil Burner and Windshield Wiper going at it Oct. 16, 1976 in the very first James Dancer Memorial. That epic duel for the ages involved New Jersey's favorite son and the most influential presence in Freehold's history, Stanley Dancer.

Oh, the things I remember from Freehold. Like the 150th celebration of the oldest track in North America in 2003 with a race down main street; or the only dead heat in Triple Crown history for pacers in the 2004 Cane Pace when the Brett Pelling stablemates Western Terror and Timesarechanging couldn't be separated; or a 1998 race at the track when the then Gov. Christie Todd Whitman, on horseback, led the post parade.

WHO CAN IT BE NOW?

Who can remember Mister Osage and then Stewart Hanover holding the track record in the 1970s for consecutive wins? Who can recall Adios Ronnie, Flower Child, and Amazing Pick? How about that great Steve Wolf Driving Challenge that kicked off around 1992? The brand-spanking new temperature controlled insulated grandstand? Remember Woodstock? Do you know what happened right after? On Aug. 16, 1969, Freehold set their record for handle of $1,088,792. Vernon Dancer, Stanley's brother, had the first 2:00 winner in Freehold history on Aug. 12, 1967 with Peerswick. John Campbell's eight wins on a single card from October 1986 still stands. Gilles Villemure from the New York Rangers, John Montefusco from Major League Baseball, and Oleg Cassini from the world of fashion, were just three of the many celebrities that made it to Freehold.

Freehold Raceway, around since 1853, was there 123 years before The Meadowlands opened and 132 years before Garden State Park debuted. There will be plenty more in the next installment as we inch closer to the moment of truth, but before we go, here's one more thing: Guess who the only member of the $200 million driving club to have recorded his first ever win at Freehold? Ron Pierce in 1975 with Clans Amber for Art Unger. He was 19 years old at the time and had tried 13 times prior to that breakthrough.

THE DOWN UNDER DIARY

with ADAM HAMILTON

Storylines abound for Inter Dominion

by Adam Hamilton

The biggest names are missing, but the power of the Inter Dominion to churn out great stories is as strong as ever.

The doubters said a series missing champions Leap To Fame and Just Believe, along with dual New Zealand Cup hero Swayzee, would likely slide by without much attention... like a tennis “major” a few years back if it was missing Nadal and Federer.

Wrong.

Of course, we’d all love to see the very best lock horns in Down Under’s most iconic series, but the racing has been spirited and the lovely story angles have been plentiful.

That’s the great thing about the Inter Dominion, is its ability to produce stories, many through the demanding nature where the horses – pacers and trotters – have to race in three rounds of qualifying heats and the final within 15 days.

Let’s have a look at some of them.

MAX DELIGHT AND DAVID AIKEN

This is the emotion-charged story of the entire series, not just the pacing division.

This marvelous old pacer (he turns 9 next month) has fittingly fought his way through the final after three races where not a lot went right, but he found a way.

His trainer David Aiken, who won the pacing final with Lennytheshark in 2015, has been fighting prostate cancer for two-and-a-half years.

“I had surgery at the start, but my PSA levels were still high after it, which meant they didn’t get it all out, but it took them more than two years to pinpoint where it was,” Aiken said. “They found two spots and I had seven weeks of radiation to zap them, which only finished about a week before this series started.

“Now, I’ve got to wait for blood tests in January to see if it works. My PSA levels need to be zero then.”

“Yes, there’s a few layers to the story [of Max Delight], isn’t there? We’ve all had or have our battles. In [owner Mick Maxfield’s] case, he’s coming to Menangle this week and admits it might be the last time he gets to see the horse race in person.”

~ David Aiken

Aiken admits Max Delight’s on-track renaissance through his own health battle has been “a real crutch, not to me, but those around me, too.”

But it runs deeper. Max Delight has overcome a career-threatening tendon injury himself more than four years ago, and his Tasmanian based owner, Mick Maxfield, is also struggling with his health.

“Yes, there’s a few layers to the story, isn’t there?” Aiken said. “We’ve all had or have our battles. In Mick’s case, he’s coming to Menangle this week and admits it might be the last time he gets to see the horse race in person.”

So, can he land a fairytale win?

“Yes, he can,” Aiken said. “He’s racing better than ever, but he’ll need the race run to suit and to be able to do it his way, stalk them and get the last crack at them in a field like this.”

CAPTAINS KNOCK AND JARROD CROKER

One of the golden tickets for racing is when a high-profile sports star gets actively involved in a big race.

In the case of this final, it doesn’t get much bigger than rugby league legend Jarrod Croker in a final run in the rugby league-mad western suburbs of Sydney.

Croker played 307 games for the Canberra Raiders and was their long-time captain before retiring at the end of the 2023 season.

At the height of his career, he joined some mates from his old home town of Goulburn, including top horseman Brad Hewitt, to create a syndicate of friends and family called the “Triple Play Syndicate.” It was named after one of the first horses they raced together, Our Triple Play, who won 17 races and almost $300,000.

One of the first purchases by the syndicate was a Captaintreacherous colt, now known as Captains Knock (and yes, named after Croker).

The 4-year-old has already won 18 of his 41 starts and over $530,000 and he’s one of the favorites for this pacing final.

“I didn’t really get emotional much during my footy days, but I did when I was at the track to see this guy with the middle [3YO] of his three NSW Breeders Challenge finals and I’m sure I will if he runs a big race or even wins on Saturday,” Croker said.

“I love the sport, especially being able to share the success and fun of it all with a group of friends and family like we have involved.”

Throw in the fact it’s the first Inter Dominion series where Hewitt will have drives in the final and it will be a special night, indeed.

Hewitt hasn’t mucked around this year. He not only drives Captains Knock in the pacing final, but also trains and drives hot favorite The Locomotive in the trotting final.

KEEPING IT IN THE FAMILY

Harness racing, especially Down Under, has always been a strong family game.

This Inter Dominion certainly underlines that.

Across the pacing and trotting finals, we have a remarkable five horses trained by a parent and driven by one of their children.

In the pacing final: Peter and Will Rixon combine with Jilliby Nitro and Shane and Ryan Sanderson have Dangerous.

Switch to the trotting final where Marg Lee (mother) trains Keayang Chucky, son Paddy co-trains and another son, Jason, does the driving.

In the same race, John Justice and daughter, Ewa, combined with last year’s runner-up Mufasa Metro, while it’s the same with Plymouth Chubb where father Peter Manning trains and daughter Kerry takes the reins.

THE DOMINATOR

Can 29-year-old trainer Jason Grimson do it again?

Grimson first burst into the big league when he won the 2021 Menangle Inter Dominion pacing final with $41 (for $1 bet) outsider Boncel Benjamin on protest.

He did it again a year later with I Cast No Shadow in Melbourne, then had Swayzee run third last year.

Grimson has two of the 12 pacing finalists, Curly James and Nerano, along with Royal Dan in the trotting final.

THE YOUNG GUNS

The health of any sport can usually be measured by the young talent coming through and there is an abundance of that in Australia.

Pleasingly, many of the top young drivers will be part of the Inter Dominion finals.

There is no hotter young driver in Australia than Cam Hart. He will have his sixth and seventh Inter Dominion finals drives on Nerano (pacing) and Toro Stride (trotting).

Hart won the 2022 pacing final on I Cast No Shadow and was third with Swayzee last year.

His great mate, Jack Callaghan, has driven in three finals for a best result of third on Alta Orlando in the 2021 pacing final. He drives Curly James (pacer) and Royal Dan (trotter) on Saturday night.

Then there is WA starlet Deni Roberts, who is contesting her first Inter Dominion and has the drive on big hope Minstrel in the pacing final.

That's without delving further in Will Rixon, Ryan Sanderson, Seaton Grima, Josh Gallagher (who won the 2021 pacing final and drives Terry this time), Jason Lee, Ewa Justice and Tayla French.

WHEN YOU'RE HOT, YOU'RE HOT

What about the past couple of months Victorian country trainer Marg Lee and her boys, Jason and Paddy, have enjoyed?

Their freakish 3-year-old Keayang Zahara went to New Zealand and thrashed their best in three feature races to stretch her unbeaten record to 14 wins.

Now they haven't just qualified their first Inter Dominion trotting finalist, but they've got a quarter of the field – three of the 12 starters – with Keayang Chucky, Keayang Stuka and Aldebaran Vera.

“All credit to Paddy for that,” Marg said. “He's done all the work with the Sydney team, while we've been focused in New Zealand and with the stable back home [in Victoria].”

MILLIONAIRE-ESS?

Top mare Queen Elida is racing for a special place in Down Under history on Saturday night.

Victory would take her to $1,005,345 in earnings and make her only the second Australasian trotting mare to top $1 million in prize money. The other is One Over Kenny, and she's not that far ahead at $1,060,394.

Queen Elida has finished third in the past two finals behind the great Just Believe and doesn't have him to contend with this time.

But she's drawn outside her two main dangers, Keayang Chucky (3) and The Locomotive (4).

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Woolums welcomes every opportunity to drive horses

by Chris Lomon

If dedication was measured in miles and commitment, Alex Woolums would be a driving force.

The young Ohioan's devotion to standardbred racing and its equine stars is unquestionable.

Road trips, some of them two hours or more each way, are hardly an inconvenience for Woolums.

"I am just trying to drive as many horses as I can," said Woolums, who worked for trainer Brian Georges for seven years. "I warm up horses every night at Dayton. And if I have to drive somewhere to warm up one horse, I'll do it. I want people to see I am dedicated and that I want to be there."

"My biggest thing is showing up every day, working hard and learning whatever I can."

A fourth-generation horseman, Woolums is getting his driving career in gear.

He has sat in the sulky for a handful of qualifiers, the first coming in September at Scioto Downs. His second came later that month, this time at Dayton Raceway.

In rein to Nickis All In, a 4-year-old pacing son of Rustys All In—Whistler Seelster, Woolums battled a few butterflies in the moments before the starter called the field.

"Honestly, I was nervous," Woolums said. "I looked over and I saw guys like Dan Noble, who have been driving for a long time, and it hit me that I was on the same track and in the same race as them."

As the horses got into position on the gate and began to pick up speed, Woolums' anxiousness dissipated.

"When it's time to race, you forget everything else and just focus," Woolums said.

Leaving from post 7 in the eight-horse field, Woolums' initial hope was to get away quickly with the Steven Ashby trainee.

So far, so good.

Sitting second through splits of :28.1, :56.4 and 1:26.3, Nickis All In chased stablemate Corner The Market down the lane.

Courtesy Alex Woolums
Alex Woolums.

At the wire, Woolums and the brown gelding were a neck in front, pacing the mile in 1:56.2.

"I sat a 2-hole trip the whole time and it worked out perfectly," Woolums said. "I wasn't trying to win it for myself. It was more important for my horse to pass another one, for him to get that feeling."

The victory embodied Woolums' approach with pacers and trotters, where both driver and horse have a say.

"In warm-ups on race night, I don't like to fight horses," Woolums said. "I want to work with them, to understand what they need to be at their best. I think the people I warm up for know that I am there to keep their horse relaxed. People like that."

Woolums has a stable full of support.

Encouragement is never in short supply as he works to raise his profile in racing.

“My stepdad is Ryan Malone, who trained and drove,” Woolums said. “He owns a horse now and his father, Wendell Malone, is the trainer, but when I was younger, they had five or six who raced all the time. My stepdad supports me a lot. He waits on me to get home every night, asking me how many I warmed up, how they were, who they were for. It makes me feel good that people care and makes me work even harder to find success.”

Woolums’ path to his present time in racing has been a winding one.

His scholastic focus was on heavy equipment and engineering.

“Right out of school, I went to work at Hagemeyer Farms,” he said of the full-service Equine Boarding, Breeding and Foal Care Facility in Southwest Ohio, just 15 minutes from Woolums’ home. “I was cleaning stalls. I learned a lot when I was there – breeding, babies, and a lot of other important things.

“After I graduated, there was no formal ceremony because of COVID. A staff member made a Secret Santa-type event, and I got a coffee cup, gloves, a business card for an excavating company, and a note saying who it was from. It was from a lady who worked in the school office.”

While the job didn’t pan out as he hoped, Woolums realized that his future was tied to something from his past.

A life in horse racing was meant to be.

“I appreciated the opportunity, but I started to realize what I wanted to do,” Woolums said, “My father, Allen, has worked for Brian Georges for seven years. When I was in high school, I would go to the barn every morning, cleaning stalls and helping with whatever was needed. After I stopped working excavating, I went back to Brian, which was in the wintertime.

“Not long after that, I knew I was hooked.”

Still in the early stages of his time in the race bike, Alex allows himself to dream big, while also meticulously following a patient plan to achieve his goals.

“Being from Ohio, everyone in the industry here wants to win the Little Brown Jug,” Alex said. “That’s a very big long-term goal. I did paddock a horse who won a heat of the Jug, Ken Hanover [trained by Roland Mallar], back in 2023, and that was very cool – the best experience I ever had.

“Shorter term, I need to hit the fair circuit and go hard there. I’m big on showing up and giving my best.”

Alex fashioned the same work ethic during his bull-riding career.

“I have always wanted to show people that I am serious about being there and being ready for the moment,” Alex said. “I will do that when I go to the fairs, to show I am dedicated to doing my best every chance I get.”

When he isn’t at the barn, Alex is enjoying his role as a new father.

“ I am just trying to drive as many horses as I can. I warm up horses every night at Dayton. And if I have to drive somewhere to warm up one horse, I’ll do it. I want people to see I am dedicated and that I want to be there. My biggest thing is showing up every day, working hard and learning whatever I can. ”

~ Alex Woolums

Alex and his partner, Isabella Bullock, welcomed a son, Waylon, on Oct. 2.

“I’ll tell you what – that right there is my favorite thing,” Alex said. “To spend time with him, seeing him smile, it is the best thing I could ever ask for. There is so much to look forward to with him in our lives.”

There is also an unmistakable tone of optimism in Alex’s voice when he speaks of his racing career.

As always, he will continue to go the extra mile.

“I’m happy to go anywhere, anytime, to be around the horses, and show people how much they mean to me and how much this sport means to me,” Alex said.

It reads, ‘Stay small enough long enough you’ll be big enough soon enough.’

Eleven words that drive Alex Woolums each and every day.

SIRE STAKES REPORT

Jett Propelled takes flight, sweeps DSBF prelims

by the Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund

On the strength of three consecutive wins, Jett Propelled was on Wednesday (Dec. 11) once again bet down to 1-20 favoritism in her $20,000 second-round Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund (DSBF) split for 3-year-old pacing fillies at Bally's Dover. And, once again, the daughter of Roddy's Bags Again—Jett Away lived up to the billing, this time by way of a decisive 1:54.3 score over sloppy going in the second of three divisions.

Jason Thompson launched forward with Jett Propelled out of post 3, and the pair cleared Smalltown Bad Girl (driven by Tim Tetrick) to control a :28 first quarter. After coasting through middle splits of :57.2 and 1:25.4, Jett Propelled steadily drew clear to leave Smalltown Bad Girl 2¾ lengths in her wake. Bad Nella Monella (Montrell Teague) rallied mildly to take third, another eight lengths in arrears.

Robert Shahan owns, trains and bred Jett Propelled, who has won 11 times in her career and paid $2.10 to win.

American Marvel and driver Tony Morgan earned a 1:58.2 victory for trainer Vince Copeland and owner Look Ahead Racing in the first division, conducted as a non-wagering event. After rating a :59 first half, the Delmarvalous—Allamerican Caress filly held off a late challenge from pocket foe Designs On You (Allan Davis) to win for the fourth time in her career by three-quarters-of-a-length. Sweet Bobbie Jo (Corey Callahan) was third.

The third and final division saw Slipinsidewayz and driver Victor Kirby opt for a pocket ride behind Bella's Dream (Teague) through a 1:28.2 first three-quarters before challenging in the stretch and prevailing by a half-length in 1:58.4. Grace O'Malley (Jason Green) was third. Bryan Truitt trains the victorious Badlands Hanover-Day Trip filly, who paid $2.60 in her fifth career win, for Bryan Truitt, Jr.

The Bally's Dover DSBF series for 3-year-old pacing fillies culminates in a $110,000 championship event next Wednesday (Dec. 18), with the following eight fillies having qualified: Jett Propelled, Slipinsidewayz, American Marvel, Amelia Maximus, Smalltown Bad Girl, Bad Nella Monella, Bella's Dream and Designs On You.

FAVORITES FALL IN DSBF TROT PRELIMS

Odds-on favorites were shut out in the second round of the Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund (DSBF) series for 3-year-old male trotters at Bally's Dover as both Pretty Two and Platinum Max upended odds-on choices in their respective $20,000 splits on Tuesday (Dec. 10).

In the first division, 5-2 second choice Pretty Two and driver Cody Polisenio vacated the pocket up the backstretch to wear down pacesetter Ronnie Ridge (driven by Tony Morgan) and then withstood a late charge from 1-5 favorite Workslkeacharm (Tim Tetrick) to win by a nose in 1:56.2. LG's Bluestone (Ross Wolfenden) finished third.

Carlo Polisenio trains eight-time winner Pretty Two, a Dusty Winner—I Concur gelding who competes as a homebred for Jane Dunavant. He paid $7.80 to win.

The second division saw 10-1 long shot Platinum Max and driver Troy Beyer yield for a pocket ride behind 1-2 choice LG's Jaxon (Jim Morand), stalk an intensifying duel between that rival and the first-over Portnoy (Montrell Teague) up the backstretch, and then dive to the open stretch to take the lead and evade stablemate Chief Funster (Trae Porter) by 1½ lengths to win in 1:58. LG's Jaxon was a beaten third.

Ron Millman trains three-time winner Platinum Max, a gelded son of E L Platinum—Hybrid Hedy who paid $22.40 to win, for owner Kelsey Wagner.

Preliminary winners LG's Jaxon, Platinum Max, Pretty Two and Workslkeacharm will be joined in next Tuesday's (Dec. 17) $110,000 series final by Ronnie Ridge, Chief Funster, LG's Bluestone and Trout Master.

GOING PLATINUM REPEATS IN DSBF PRELIM

Breakaway Racing's Going Platinum was again the star of the show on Monday (Dec. 9) at Bally's Dover, proving the fastest of the three divisional winners in the second round of the Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund (DSBF) series for 3-year-old trotting fillies with a 1:57.3 score in the second $20,000 division.

In line to Corey Callahan, the E L Platinum—Nitroglide Hanover filly left from the outside post 6 to secure the pocket behind Lovie's Place (driven by Art Stafford, Jr.). After stalking fractions of :28.3, 1:00.1 and 1:28.3, Going Platinum angled out of the pocket at the top of the stretch and collared Lovie's Place by a neck to record her third consecutive win and the 12th of her career. FD Pure Platinum (Justin Parker) finished a tired third after making a sustained first-over push up the backstretch.

Nick Callahan trains Going Platinum, who paid $3.40 to win as the 3-5 favorite.

The third division also yielded a repeat winner, as Platinum Proposal and driver Jim Morand rolled to a 5¼-length victory over Marino's Prize and Royal Robin, covering the mile in a lifetime best 1:57.4. Les Givens trains the E L Platinum—SJ's Proposal filly, who paid $2.20 to win, for Nanticoke Racing and Delbert Cain.

Daburg kicked off the DSBF proceedings with a 1:59 win in the first division, which was conducted as a non-wagering event. The Anders Bluestone—Comical Dream filly rode the pocket before emerging in upper stretch to defeat Platinum Blue and Rip Away by a widening 2½ lengths. Tony Morgan drove for trainer George Polk, Jr. and owner Calvin Hoover.

In addition to Going Platinum, Platinum Proposal and Daburg, the following fillies have qualified for the $110,000 DSBF series championship, to be held Dec. 16: Chinco Mayo, Lovie's Place, Marino's Prize, FD Pure Platinum and Platinum Blue.

Giant Hit euthanized at 32

Giant Hit, 2, 1:58; 3, 1:54.2 ($646,650), passed away on Nov. 27. The retired stallion was residing at Winbak Farm of Delaware. He was euthanized due to age-related issues at 32 years old.

Giant Hit was bred by White Horse Farms (formerly co-owned by Winbak Farm's owner, Joe Thomson).

"We are proud to have had a connection to Giant Hit since the day he was born," said Joe Thomson, Winbak Farm owner. "He was one of the first horses that I personally co-bred who went on to have great success."

Giant Hit was a half-brother to 1998 USHWA Dan Patch 2-Year-Old Filly Trotter of the Year, Cayster, 1:55 ($530,451), Program Speed, 2, 1:56.1 ($345,007), Rockaroundtheclock, 3, 1:56.4h ($197,485), Set The Program, 1:56.2s ($118,589), and Clasicaly Designed, 3, 1:56.2s ($100,798). Clasicaly Designed is the second dam of Southwind Frank, 3, 1:52.1 ($2,115,999).

Giant Hit was a 13-time winner. The son of Speedy Crown was trained by Per Eriksson and mainly driven by John Patterson, Jr. At 2, Giant Hit won seven of 10 starts including the Arden Downs Stakes, John Simpson, Sr. Stakes, New York Fair Stakes, three New York Sire Stakes divisions, and Peter Haughton Memorial elimination (he was third in the final). At 3, Giant Hit won the American-National Stakes elimination, Bluegrass - Transylvania Stakes, Breeders Crown elimination, Founders Gold Cup division, John Simpson, Sr. Stakes division, and Kentucky Futurity division (third in final). He was second in the Beacon Course Stakes elimination (third in final), Currier and Ives Stakes elimination and final, Hambletonian elimination (third in final), and Historic-Dickerson Cup leg. He was third in the Canadian Trotting Classic and World Trotting Derby heat.

"Giant Hit had the qualities needed to make him a successful stallion: pedigree, performance and great conformation," said Thomson. "He was one of our first stallions that we stood at Winbak Farm of New York and he will always have a special place in my heart because he helped put our farm on the map."

Giant Hit stood in New York from 1997 to 2008 and Delaware from 2009 to 2017. He is the sire of 47 performers who earned $100,000. His offspring earned $14,810,594.

"Giant Hit has both sired and been the grandsire of world champions," said Jack Burke, Winbak Farm general manager. "He was a consistent sire of stakes winners when he stood in New York and while he stood in Delaware."

Giant Hit is the sire of New York Sire Stakes final winner, Iroquoindiangler, 3, 1:57.1s ($525,922), world champion Lost Lady One, 1:54.2s ($491,737), New York Sire Stakes winner

Tremendous Hit, 1:53.4 ($476,521), New York Sire Stakes final winner RC Destiny, 1:55.2f ($445,118), and New York Sire Stakes final winner Hitwiththeladies, 3, 1:54.4s ($435,877).

As a broodmare sire, Giant Hit is the sire of Indiana Sire Stakes Super Final winner, Grand Swan, 1:52.4 ($730,732), world champion Smoking Jet, 1:52.1h ($665,062), and New York Sire Stakes winner Aruba Vacation, 1:53.2f ($659,384).

"Thank you to everyone who supported Giant Hit during his career," said Thomson. "During his stallion career and retirement, he had the best of care from the Winbak Farm team and he will be missed by all of us."

Meadowlands Amateur Driving Club raises over $100K in 2024

The Meadowlands Amateur Driving Club (MADC) is making an impact this holiday season with their end-of-season charity donations.

"This year, the MADC is donating $110,000 to a diverse range of charities in the area. These include horse charities, standardbred retirement homes, food pantries, veteran's charities, St Jude's, Toys for Tots, and the National Multiple Sclerosis Society," said Club president Joe Lee, emphasizing the inclusive nature of the club's charitable efforts.

"Since the MADC has become a staple of The Meadowlands product, it has used the generosity of Jeff Gural and The Meadowlands to provide all of our 5 per cent commissions to these great causes. It is a win-win for everyone involved. Amateur racing brings new people to the sport, supports the racetrack with full fields, and now can use the purses to reach out to wonderful causes that help standardbreds and people.

"It gives all of us involved in the MADC immense satisfaction to give back to all of these great causes while simultaneously getting to compete in the sport that we all love."

The charities with donation amounts are:

- $10,000 Standardbred Retirement Foundation, Inc
- $10,000 New Vocation Racehorse Adoption Program
- $10,000 Purple Haze Standardbred Adoption Program Inc
- $10,000 Racing for Home Inc.
- $10,000 13 Hands Equine Rescue Inc.
- $10,000 Toys for Tots

Batavia Downs bucks national trend with marked handle increase

The 2024 racing season wrapped up at Batavia Downs last Saturday (Dec. 7) night and that also closed the track's books for the year. After all the paperwork was finalized, the bottom line showed that the business of harness racing at Batavia Downs is operating at a record pace.

The overall handle at Batavia Downs for both the winter and summer/fall meets came in at $16,826,483, which is a 9.2 per cent increase over 2023 that saw a total handle of $15,414,846. Plus, this year's handle was the highest recorded at the track since Western Regional Off-Track Betting began running the racing operation in 2002.

That 9.2 per cent increase is quite notable on its merits alone, but it also stands out in the crowd in a year where the overall handle at harness tracks across North America is down a collective 6.66 per cent.

Don Hoover is the director of live racing at Batavia Downs and he was very satisfied with the results, and was quick to mention everyone whose hard work made it happen.

"2024 was another record handle year for Batavia Downs and ended up surpassing our previous record set just last year," said Hoover. "Once again, it was a total team effort from the entire staff at Batavia Downs with special thanks going to the live racing staff, track maintenance, simulcast, group sales, marketing, track management and, of course, the horsemen and horsewomen who put on the show every night. They provided very competitive racing and proof of that was favorites winning only 44.5 per cent of the time, which rates among the lowest in the industry at any half-mile track in North America. Back-to-back record years is noteworthy, but so was the all-time record $75,000 guaranteed pool we had on Nov. 13 that also produced a record payoff. Plus, the track distributed over $7 million in overnight purses to our owners, trainers and drivers this year.”

There will be only a short amount of time for the track to sit on this year’s laurels as the break in the action at the Genesee County oval will be brief. Live racing returns to Batavia Downs on Monday (Jan. 6) for the start of the 15-day 2025 winter meet, the third consecutive overcoat session the track has hosted. Racing will be held every Monday and Thursday through Monday (Feb. 24) with all cards having a 3 p.m. post.

House captures Drivers Holiday Challenge thriller

The fifth edition of The Raceway’s Drivers Holiday Challenge on Tuesday night (Dec. 11) came right down to the wire and when the dust settled it was local reinsman Lorne House taking home the title with a one-point victory over 2024 Ontario Regional driving champion Tyler Borth.

It was Borth who jumped out to an early lead in the competition, winning three of the first four races on the program including Rising Dragon (race 1), Candescent Hanover (race 2) and Blackcreek Rosebud (race 4).

House, who was competing in his first career driving challenge, clicked in race 5 with the red hot Sheplaysforkeeps who won her second in a row at the London oval. It was the first of four consecutive wins on the program for the 43-year-old reinsman who clicked with Pajamas Optional (race 6), The Great Reset (race 7) and Greystone Ian O (race 8).

After wrestling the lead from Borth, House was able to maintain the top spot heading into the final race of the competition where he had a two-point margin going into race 12. While Borth and House would finish seventh and eighth respectively in the last race, the single point was enough to give House his first title with 92 points accumulated overall. Bob McClure finished third in the competition with 74 points.

The annual driving challenge has become a staple on The Raceway’s holiday calendar and was broadcast on COSA TV along with Rogers Community Cable TV for the first time. Donations of cash and toys from the racing community were gathered in recent weeks. A check for $6,500 was presented representing the cash donations while the total, including toy donations, was in excess of $10,000.

The Raceway continues its current live racing schedule during the holidays, every Monday, Tuesday and Friday at 5:50 p.m. There will also be a special afternoon card on Dec. 26 (Boxing Day) at 12:55 p.m. and Dec. 31 (New Year’s Eve) at 6:30 p.m.

Holiday Drivers Challenge to air on Rogers TV

The Central Ontario Standardbred Association (COSA) and Cujo Entertainment are pleased to announce that COSA TV’s broadcast of the Drivers Holiday Challenge will air multiple times over the holiday season on Rogers TV London.

The Drivers Holiday Challenge at The Raceway at Western Fair District took place on Tuesday (Dec. 10) and streamed live on its usual platforms of COSA TV’s Facebook page and YouTube channel.

Cujo Entertainment, the producer of COSA TV, has reached an agreement with Rogers TV London to broadcast the Drivers Holiday Challenge several times over the next month.

The 90-minute broadcast of the Drivers Holiday Challenge will air tonight (Dec. 13) at 5 p.m., leading into Rogers TV coverage of London Knights hockey.

The COSA TV production will then re-broadcast on Saturdays at 2 p.m., Mondays at 6 p.m. and Fridays at 5 p.m. until mid-January.

“We’re excited to partner with Rogers TV in London to attract new viewers to the sport, while also providing another outlet for racing fans in this harness racing hotbed to enjoy the action,” said Curtis MacDonald, owner of Cujo Entertainment. “We certainly want to thank Jeremy Parking at Rogers TV for allowing us the airtime to showcase COSA TV and we’re optimistic that the Drivers Holiday Challenge will lead to more opportunities for COSA TV on Rogers TV in 2025.”

Other Rogers TV markets across Ontario will have the opportunity to pick-up the COSA TV broadcast. COSA TV will share any additional broadcast listings and the market where it will be shown on its social channels.

The Drivers Holiday Challenge featured eight drivers competing to earn the most points throughout the evening’s races. The event included a large toy drive in support of Toys for Tots.

The COSA TV broadcast was hosted by Mark McKelvie, who was joined on the desk by three-time reigning Canadian Driver of the Year and racing analyst James MacDonald. Robert Reid, Jr. was in the paddock catching up with the participants and providing additional insights.

Hart, Sir Pinocchio and New York horses honored by USHWA

Beloved harness horse trainer Eddie Hart looked out at the capacity crowd of well-wishers at Sunday (Dec. 8) night’s 65th Awards Banquet of the Monticello-Goshen Chapter of the United States Harness Writers Association (USHWA), presented by the New York Sire Stakes, and said, “Me and my buddy Tom Manza took the BOCES harness class in high school over 50 years ago. And I am still here.”

Hart is the trainer of this year’s USTA District 8 Horse of the Year, Sir Pinocchio and his charges have earned over $23 million, giving the life-long conditioner a long list of people that he was thankful for.

“Jeff Cohen flew up from Florida just to be here tonight,” Hart said, “And I am very grateful for that.”

For Cohen, Hart trained Four Starzzzz Shark, a top open pacer. Hart also trained Space Shuttle for Bob Hiemstra, Roll With Joe for Blue Chip Farms, et al, and had a plethora of horses for top owners like Jeff Snyder and Mannie Halbert.

“But most of all I have to thank my wife Jeannine for sticking with me and the horses for all these years,” Hart said, which prompted the crowd to their feet, once again.

Known for his integrity, professionalism and horsemanship, Hart often shies away from the spotlight, but anyone present could feel the mutual admiration and respect that filled the room.

Although the Monticello-Goshen Chapter was tasked with presenting all of the New York Sire Stakes, Excelsior Series and County Fair Awards, along with the U.S. Trotting Association’s District 8 Awards, the night very much belonged to Hart and the connections of Sir Pinocchio.

For the owners and breeders of the Yonkers Trot and NY Sire Stakes Championship-winning 3-year-old son of Met’s Hall, Carolyn and Irv Atherton were both honored with individual awards. Carolyn was the recipient of the Cradle of the Trotter Breeders Award, and her husband Irv received the Amy Bull Crist Distinguished Service Award for his 20 years of service to the sport and Goshen Historic Track.

Sir Pinocchio’s driver, Jason Bartlett, was feted with both the New York Sire Stakes and USTA District 8 Driver of the Year award.

The USHWA chapter’s second highest honor, the John Manzi Leadership Award, went to Steve Jones for his work as trustee with the Agriculture and New York State Horse Breeding Fund in securing a record purse structure for the New York Sire Stakes program for 2025. Jones, the proprietor of his family-operated Cameo Hills Farm, glossed over all of his other ‘dollar-a-year’ jobs. The third-generation horseman is also president of Goshen Historic Track and sits on the board of the Harness Racing Museum and Hall of Fame, the Hambletonian Society, and the Grand Circuit.

The writers also honored Kim Crawford with the Excelsior Award for his dedication and contributions to harness racing in New York State. A former driver, trainer and owner, Crawford now dons the tools of trackman and is also a USTA director. A staunch advocate for horsemen throughout the state, he puts his time and efforts into ensuring that our New York racing surfaces are the best they can be.

Heather Reese-Marshall received the chapter's John Gilmour Good 'Gal' Award for her yeoman's work foaling, raising and selling champion Crawford Farms' stars such as Hambletonian winner Karl and Kentucky Futurity winner Sig Sauer. In addition, Michelle Crawford was on hand to accept the Breeder of the Year award from the New York Sire Stakes and USTA District 8.

In addition, Jessica Otten, harness racing analyst and TV personality received the chapter's Phil Pines, along with Tyler 'TJ' Miller who got the group's Rising Star Award.

Aside from hosting nationally prominent honorees, the awards banquet still maintains its 'Borscht Belt' roots. Since 1959 the Monticello-Goshen Chapter has been rewarding the local horsemen and women that compete at "The Mighty M," as well as the hard-working staff and management that keep the races rolling.

The Mighty M Award of Appreciation was bestowed upon Dale Berenson for her 35-years of dedication to the Monticello Harness Horsemen's Association. President Alan Schwartz made a poignant introduction while Ms. Berenson was given a lengthy standing ovation for her tireless efforts on behalf of all the local horsepeople.

Andrew Adamczyk was this year's Amateur Driver of the Year, with long-time track announcer Howard Oil ad-libbing a race call while a replay was shown on two big screens, much to the delight of all in attendance. These folks, and others from around the region, received their awards along with their peers for the 60-plus divisional equine honors bestowed upon the hard-working owners, trainers and caretakers that call New York State, and the Sullivan County oval home.

Just after the dinner break a bidding war of sorts broke out among several of the golf aficionados that were in attendance that evening. When the dust settled Jared Bako emerged as the successful live auction purchaser of a foursome at the Monster Golf Course, compliments of Resorts World Catskills. Following the melee, Bako said, "I hate to lose!" The Bako Racing Team had an entire table of staff and horse people on hand to collect all the hardware they won for horses such as The Last Martini and Fast Choice.

With revenue from their loyal advertisers in the 88-page souvenir journal, the Monticello-Goshen Chapter of USHWA is able to raise enough funds to donate thousands of dollars every year to the Harness Racing Museum and Hall of Fame, as well as Goshen Historic Track. These two distinct, separate entities share the same hallowed ground and a singleness of purpose to preserve, protect and promote harness racing.

The practice of raising money and donating funds to Historic Track and the Hall of Fame began in the mid-1970s with Monticello Raceway publicity icon John Manzi, and has continued ever since. In just the last 25 years, the local Monticello-Goshen Chapter has donated well over $160,000 to these important industry preservationists.
